Happy Friday!

We're so close to Christmas - excitement levels are rising in school!

Thank you all for joining us on our journey through Advent. It was lovely to see so many families in the Church for Christmas Carols. We were very proud of the children who sang and read and sat and listened so well - living our values of courtesy and community.

It was a bit less calm for Christmas Craft morning - what a wonderful, messy, happy family time it was! Thank you for coming and living our value of creativity with us. We were delighted to welcome so many little brothers and sisters too. They are already part of our school community! We hope you enjoyed the tea and treats served by the School Council and the extra choir performance.

We hope to see lots of you on Monday and Tuesday for the Nativity. Your final chance to join us this year is on Compassion Day on Thursday for hot chocolate, carols and PTA raffle on the playground.

On Friday our children are going to be busy Christmas Elves delivering Christmas Cards to our neighbours. Wave if you see us! And then on Friday after lunch we will send your children home to enjoy the holidays with you.

Have a safe weekend, from Ms Cooper

Thank you school council and choir for your service to the school!
